(2.0) Village is Bhupgarh/Khambi/Pangerthu in Hodal tahsil and in district Palwal situated in Haryana. There is salty ground water in my village due to which we are totally depended on water canal (bamba) water for irrigation or other agriculture works. Water canal (bamba) is constructed in 1910 but it is very sad to say that from past 15 years the water canal (bamba) is in totally dry condition because villages which are situated at upstream of this water canal either have used up all the water or have diverted the water flow. Due to this, land of farmers remains dry most of the time and most of the crops/ agriculture wasted causing heavy loss to farmers. Kindly note that water of this canal (bamba) also passes more than 35kms downstream but due to dry condition of this canal, villages at downstream are also badly affected and farmers are bearing heavy losses.
